your expectations!

Many think the Civil War was fought only in the fields and honor and valor were won with guns and bayonets. On this unique adventure you will not only meet the soldiers, but also the men, women and children who were just ordinary people who did extraordinary deeds and learn their stories of Valor.

There was a soldier who died in the conflict at Gettysburg. Historians believe that after he was wounded, he somehow managed to drag himself to a secluded spot and died. He was holding an ambrotype -- an early kind of photograph -- of his three adored children. When found, no one could not identify him. The image of his children ended up in the possession of Dr. John Francis Bourns. Bourns decided to try to find out the identity of the children's father. His efforts produced a wave of publicity that swept the North and became the People Magazine cover story of its day. Was he ever identified? Come and find out.

Visit the Battlefield with a specially chosen historian who will tell you the human side from the three day battle. Meet Matilda "Tillie" Pierce, who was only 15 years old at the time of the Battle of Gettysburg. Be introduced to the Shriver family who woke up one morning to the War that found their town.

This unique adventure will have you laughing, tearing up, so engrossed and eating a fine meal, all in one day. Pay tribute to those who lived and died as we enter into the 150th Commemoration of the Civil War that shaped our nation!
