

Caverns, Plantations, and Battlefields

4 Days/3 Nights

Shenandoah Valley – Winchester, Middletown, Strasburg

Long Branch was built around 1805 by Robert Carter Burwell, a member of a group of descendants of Tidewater tobacco planters who moved to the Shenandoah Valley at the end of the eighteenth century. Settling on land granted to them in 1730 by an ancestor, Robert "King" Carter, they built large and well-appointed houses and raised tobacco and wheat with slave labor. This new plantation society revolved around the village of Millwood, with its store, blacksmith's shop and grist mill.

HIGHLIGHTS INCLUDE:

- Stonewall Jackson's Headquarters
- First Battle of Kernstown
- Wine tasting and appetizers
- Belle Grove Plantation
- Cedar Creek Battle
- Crystal Caverns at Hupp's Hill
- Stonewall Jackson Museum
- Jeane Dixon's Museum and
- Dinner at Wayside Inn
- Wayside Theatre
- Special Entertainment

All-In-One Receptive Services 888-283-3141